

Decision-making in Autism

Research Survey

Researchers at the University of Cambridge are carrying out a survey of the decision-making experiences of men and women on the autism spectrum

We are looking for:

- Men and women (aged 16 and over) who have been diagnosed with autism, high-functioning autism, Asperger syndrome or another autism spectrum condition or disorder; and
- Family members of adults with autism spectrum conditions or disorders to take part in the survey, either online or by post.

The survey takes approximately 30 minutes to complete and all information will remain anonymous

---

Complete the survey online at www.ldrg.org.uk/autismsurvey/ (enter the password 'decision-making' when prompted).

or

Request a free-post paper version of the questionnaire by contacting Lydia Luke 01223 746100 or lr129@medschl.cam.ac.uk

Thank you for your help

Supported by

